HCS Discontinues Access for Internet Explorer 9 and Windows XP

As of June 1, 2017, access to the Health Commerce System (HCS) was discontinued for all users who have Internet Explorer 9 (IE9) or older versions. In addition, access was discontinued for all users who have a Windows XP operating system.

The Meaningful Use Registration for Public Health (MURPH) System is an application located on HCS, so access was also discontinued to this.

Please update your web browser and operating system to regain access to HCS and the MURPH System application.
